Holland and Scandinavia.

Books of travel by Mr. Augustus J. C. Hare are everywhere accepted as authority. Multitudes who have visited London and Rome have found to be valuable guides his Walks in and Days near those Cities. Not less available and interesting are his writings upon Italian Cities and Tours in Spain. In Holland and Scandinavia, his latest published work, Mr. Hare has departed from the customary guide-book style, and has given sketchy descriptions of "delightful days whose memory is indescribably sunny." Days in which he jaunted through Holland, Denmark, Sweden and Norway. To readers of Mr. Bayard Taylor's delightful descriptions of natural scenery and of domestic and social life, as given in his Northern Travel, this Holland and Scandinavia of Mr. Hare's will prove a peculiarly pleasing supplement. Holland occupies the larger portion of the volume, in which appear numerous pen-pictures of its ecclesiastical architecture and other art developments of the country. Passing into Denmark he lingers lovingly amid its forests and beside its lakes; he tells of the rose-bounded streets and rose-embowered houses. He gives its traditions and calls it "the very home of picturesque story." More than a passing mention is made of Copenhagen, with its palaces and castles, and its "pretty odd pleasure grounds," called Tivoli. The reader is taken to the Thorvaldsen Museum, that he may visit the ivy-covered tomb of Denmark's greatest artist. In accordance with this, Bertel Thorvaldsen's wish, he rests in the midst of his own works, marked by no monument. Mr. Hare passes to Helsingborg, Sweden, "one mild evening on huge, blue foam-crested waves" of the Sound, that separates that land from Denmark. So narrow is this strait, that but ten minutes are occupied in crossing it. Through Sweden's mountains and fjords he travels to Norway, the land that he "especially" delights to remember. The book must be read, in order to appreciate "the loveliest mountain flowers," and "scenery wonderfully pretty," if the Cradle of Scandinavian Christianity will be understood, and the graveyard, called by the natives, "the Cathedral Garden," will be accurately pictured. Numerous outline drawings, with which the work abounds, add to its attractiveness.

At this particular period in Russian affairs, when the entire world is concerned in the issue pending between England and that great empire of eastern Europe, Mr. Hare's Studies in Russia, soon to be issued from the press of his publishers, Messrs. George Routledge & Sons, will be of more than usual interest and value.

A poet sings: "I miss you, my darling, my darling; the embers burn low on the hearth." Yes it's an awful thing not to have a wife to attend to the fire.

When you read the seductive legend in the tobaccoist's window, "Ofr two penny cigars can be beat," remember that if they can't be beat, they may be cabbage.

A wit who was asked what he had rather be during the three stages of life, replied: "Till thirty a pretty woman; till fifty a successful general; the rest of my life a cardinal."

Miss Stockinbond (at a concert): "What are they playing?" Enthusiast: "Seigfried's Death, you know by Wagner." Miss S.: "What did he die of? It must have been fits."

"Have you any 'home ties'?" asked a young lady of a young man whose appearance indicated dissipation. "Oh, yes (thinks), home ties, lots of 'em; I got a mother-in-law."

Waiter (to cook): "G orge the gent at No. 3 says as his potatoes ain't good—says as they've all got black eyes on 'em." George (real name Patrick): "Bedad, thin, it's no fault o'mine. The spalpeens must have been fighntin' after I put them into the pot."

Ex Governor Smith, of Georgia, having said that he had seen Henry Ward Beecher dining recently, was asked whether the man of God seemed hearty. "Hearty?" replied the Georgian, "Why if he had been at the miracle on the mount there wouldn't have been any basketfuls left."

A TIE.—They have a curious way of doing things in the French courts. In the Hugues jury six were in favor of her conviction, two favored acquittal, and four were neutral. The later were reckoned in the prisoner's favor and a tie ensued, which was considered as an acquittal.

When Judge Gray, of the United States Supreme Bench, told a Massachusetts lawyer who was arguing a case before him, "the law is so and so," the lawyer quickly retorted, "It is the law now, sir, but it was not until you spoke." Judge Gray subsequently acknowledged his mistake in graceful terms.

SOME QUEER THINGS!

New Curiosities.—Wonderful and Mysterious.

Strange Discoveries about Beauty.
 New York, March 4th, 1885.

A few things are per little known. For instance the busiest part of New York contains the big Western Union Building, supplied with water from several artesian wells in the cellar. The same building has an elevator whose flight is so rapid that visitors frequently experience sea-sickness in its descent. It literally falls six or more stories and alights as gently as a feather.

Near by may be seen one hundred telegraph wires strung from pole to pole.

Across the street snow or rain falls almost every day in the year.

For ten cents can now be procured a harmless cure for Colic, which will relieve the baby at once and avoid crying, night and day. One package lasts a year.

Teething in infants can be made painless at a cost of 10 cents per package, enough for a year's use: a harmless preparation.

You can cure sore throat with a simple and harmless remedy, costing but 10 cents for a package, lasting many years.

Bumps which a child gets in falling or otherwise should receive immediate attention. 10 cents will procure a sure supply of a harmless remedy for the same.

Small, pretty feet are especially desired by misses and mothers. On receipt of one dollar in advance, we will send our $5 method and preparation on receipt of one dollar, on condition that you return it within one year and get your money back if it fails to secure you a dainty little foot.

Lily White Hands, Smooth, Soft and Velvety, may be had by any lady by the simple use in their gloves, of our new hand-creaming preparation at an expense of only one dollar.

Wrinkles may be prevented, thus preserving a smooth, pure, youthful face till old age by the use of our Rejuvenating Preservation. This elixir with apparatus can be had for $100.

A particular specialty offered contains your name in plain letters on gold-plated breastpin, strong and pretty, for 25 cents.

Any or all of these articles promptly forwarded on receipt of price, and, if unsatisfactory, your money promptly refunded on return of same.
